

Real Honest Mom

ABOUT ME

Audra Rogers is a former tv news journalist turned parenting and family travel writer, blogger, and boymom of two. I love raising kids in real, honest, authentic ways while finding adventure in the everyday. I'm passionate about teaching old-fashioned responsibility and learning through family travel and fun kids stuff.

ABOUT Real Honest Mom

In many ways I'm learning and growing up with my children and I hope to keep it that way. I use my writing, photography and video skills to stay in touch with my inner child and showcase real life and the enjoyment of experiences over things.

I've earned several writing accolades and traffic bonuses on big name sites like Disney's Babble, The Huffington Post and TravelingMom. I am a brand ambassador for National Geographic Kids to champion natural, creative learning and I've also worked with Legoland and Disney. Because balance!

I also love to stress the positive and offer comfort and practical solutions for the more challenging parts of parenthood. It's hard to enjoy every second, but every second counts for something.

1550

4200+

700+

1200+

Monthly Visits: 3,000
Monthly Pageviews 2,000

Available For:

Freelance Writing | Video Creation | Sponsored Post | Brand Ambassador | Press Trips

Featured on:

Babble | Huffington Post | Scary Mommy | TravelingMom | NatGeoKids Family Field Guide

